| 3  | (5) 1991 Te Mata Awatea (5) 1991 Te Mata Awatea Hawkes Bay (IN)Awatea takes its name from the legendary ship SS Awatea (a Maori word meaning "Eye of the Dawn") that sailed the Auckland – Sydney – Wellington route in the late 1930's. The Awatea was requisitioned as a troop transport in WWII and was sunk off Algeria in 1942. The 1991 Awatea Cabernet/Merlot was harvested between the 4th and the 26th April. The grapes, drawn from several blocks close to the winery, were hand-harvested, then fermented in individual lots using techniques such as cap plunging and extended maceration. Following pressing the wine was aged for nineteen months in 225 litre barrels, half of them new, during which time it was progressively blended.1991 Awatea Cabernet/Merlot is a blend of 56% Cabernet Sauvignon, 34% Merlot and 10% Cabernet Franc. It has a deep ruby colour, an aroma of plums and berries with suggestions of mint and cedar. It has a full palate with long, firm tannins. | 4  | (6) 2013 Stonyridge Larose (6) 2013 Stonyridge LaroseWaiheke JS96James Suckling - Everything is firing along nicely here with plenty of ripe dark berry fruits on offer plus a deep fresh serve of red and dark cherries, plums, blackberry and nicely served spicy oak. The purity is striking and the freshness is impressive; very young and very vibrant. The palate has plenty of layering and is nicely set to develop and build. The tannins are fully ripe and well composed, gently grippy but full of life and energy. Fruit flavors follow the aromas and run super deep, carrying long and even. Great wine, even greater in time. |    | (6) 2014 Stonyridge LaroseWaihekeVisually, the wine is a deep ruby with a brightness through the rim of the glass. On the nose, the concentrated cassis and plum characters combine with the lifted violets to give more of a right bank style Bordeaux blend, a sign the significant Merlot proportion in this particular Larose. The oak integrates to provide pencil shavings and mocha notes, and supports the fruit weight effectively. The wine is has a firm structure and is quite tight at present from the natural acidity. This balances and accentuates the ripe tannins as well as giving length to the sweet fruit through the mid-palate. Martin Pickering Est. 150 - 200   |

Soil moisture levels were high due to recurring rain. Saving the  |

Although days were not particularly hot, there was enough sunshine to slowly accumulate flavour and to round and soften the tannins and phenolics, producing elegant wines with slightly lower alcohols. Has the classic Ata Rangi smoky/savoury aroma along with the still-fresh fruit and more spice here.  |

10 10 wine's aromas are fragrant and fresh with pleasurable notes of red berry fruit and exotic fruit and hints of liquorice, currants, vanilla, and passion fruit. The notes of Chianti Classico-style Sangiovese dominate the nose and fuse perfectly with a Cabernet which is equally important in characterizing this wine. On the palate the wine is highly pleasurable, supple, round, and soft in texture and savory as well. Tonic and vibrant sensations characterize a notably elegant finish and aftertaste. |     | Haliday - Australian Wine Companion - "Three different versions of the   |
|     | blend (all emanating from Roederer) stipulate 62%, 60% or 55% pinot  |
|     | noir, the remainder chardonnay. Part barrel (20%) fermentation adds to   |
|     | the complexity of the base wine, the crisp finish reflecting the high  |
|     | acidity of the vintage, and the suppression of any malolactic fermentation. It is a wine with aromas of spring/white flowers, even a hint            |
|     | of honeysuckle, then a supple, silky and graceful palate, at once creamy   |
|     | and fruity. It effortlessly stamps its impact through its sheer length, and  |

|     | oak foudres with a small amount in new barrels, the inky/ruby/purple-hued 2007 Chateauneuf du Pape Chaupin is the                                    |
|     | greatest example of this offering since the 1998, but it is even more  |
|     | concentrated than that wine. A cold terroir and sandy/clay soils have  |
|     | given the wine an extraordinary amount of acidity and freshness that   |
|     | serve it well in buttressing the fabulously concentrated, massively  |
|     | extracted, old vine Grenache. This blockbuster wine possesses  |
|     | enormous richness and density as well as an incredibly unevolved,  |
|     | young personality. Everything is there, including awesome aromatics,   |
|     | unbelievable layers of kirsch, raspberries, licorice, incense, and blacker   |
|     | fruits, and a finish that goes on for close to a minute. However, I would age this wine for 2-4 years and drink it over the following two decades or |
|     | more. It is a tour de force in old vine Grenache as well as one of the   |
|     | vintage's most compelling wines. RP  |

The 2005 Château La Tour Blanche has a complex nose with lemon sherbet, orange sorbet, honey and jasmine all soaring from the glass without a care in the world. The palate is medium-bodied with refined tranin, ever focused and poised with an elegant, suave finish that has just the right amount of edginess. There is a Barsac-like personality to this La Tour Blanche with a hint of barley sugar on the aftertaste. Overall, this is an impressive Sauternes.  Est. 80 - 100   (2) 2005 Chateau Rieussec Sauternes RP96Tasted blind against the Rieussec 2001 as a comparison, the Château Rieussec 2005 has a more airy bouquet at first and here! I find more mineralité on the nose, more precision and focus that the Rieussec 2001. The palate is clean and fresh with vibrant acidity, real tension here with marmalade, lemon curd, apricot and cold stone. Wonderful acidity is interwoven throughout this Sauternes that demonstrates real race and sophistication. It is not as rich or as hedonistic as the Rieussec 2001, but I think the slightly better wine. More breeding and energy. Do not overlook this gem. | (2) 2005 Chateau La Tour BlancheSauternes RP93Tasted blind at the 10-Year On Tasting in Sauternes. The 2005 Château La Tour Blanche has a complex nose with lemon sherbet, crange sorbet, honey and jasmine all soaring from the glass without a care in the world. The palate is medium-bodied with refined tannin, very focused and poised with an elegant, suave finish that has just the right amount of ediginess. There is a Barsac-like personality to this La Tour Blanche with a hint of barley sugar on the aftertaste. Overall, this is an impressive Sauternes. Est. 80 - 100  153  (2) 2005 Chateau Rieussec (2) 2005 Chateau Rieussec 2001 as a comparison, the Château Rieussec 2001 has a more airy bouquet at first and here I find more mineralité on the nose, more precision and focus that the Rieussec 2001. The palate is clean and fresh with vibrant acidity, real tension here with marmalade, lemon curd, apricot and cold stone. Wonderful acidity is interwoven throughout this Sauternes that demonstrates real race and sophistication. It is not as rich or as hedonistic as the Rieussec 2001, but I think the slightly better wine. More breeding and energy. Do not overlook this gem. The creme de cassis, underlying floral note, full-bodied power, extraordinary purity, multilayered texture, and finish of over a minute are a showcase for what this Chateau accomplished in 1982. The wine is still amazingly youthful, vibrant, and pure. It appears capable of remaining fruity and vibrant in 2082! Thank God it is beginning to budge, as I would like to drink most of my supply before I kick the bucket. | 179 | (2) 1982 Chateau Margaux (2) 1982 Chateau MargauxPauillac RP99 (IN)Robert Parker - The 1982 is Chateau Margaux at its most opulent and decadent. The opaque purple/garnet color is followed by a bouquet that soars from the glass, offering scents of roasted blackcurrants, herbs (thyme), licorice, and spring flowers. Magnificently concentrated and expansive on the palate, this voluptuously styled, huge, lavishly rich, overwhelming style of Chateau Margaux is almost too much of a good thing. Its low acidity and huge tannins in the finish make it approachable, so I would not quibble with anyone who wants to drink it. But do not forget that this wine should have at least 25-35 years of evolution. If indeed it turns out to be a clone of this estate's legendary 1900, it may have 3-4 times the longevity I have suggested.  Est. 1,000 - 1,500                                       |

|     | (3) 2005 Chateau Angelus (3) 2005 Chateau AngelusSt Emilion RP100Truly great stuff, this wine performed at a three-digit level both in the horizontal tasting of 2005s in Baltimore, as well as in Montreal at this mini-vertical. This sensational, opaque, bluish/purple wine offers up notes of vanillin, spring flowers, blueberry and blackberry liqueur, plus a touch of licorice. The wine hits the palate with a thunderous cascade of ripe, rich, concentrated fruit. It is full-bodied, multidimensional and layered. The tannins are beautifully integrated but still present, and the wood, acidity, alcohol, etc., are all beautifully assimilated in this magnificent, majestic vintage of Angelus. It can be drunk now, but it is still an adolescent and that suggests it has at least another 25-35 years of longevity. RP |

Full-bodied and staggeringly concentrated, this blockbuster wine (in a blockbuster wintage) is unreal. Talk about a wine that is beyond belief – this is a great achievement from Chantal and Gérard Perse. Drink it over the next 25-30 years. Sadly, there were only 340 or so cases produced. RP  |

|     | Jonathan Malthus, this wine normally has about 75% or more Cabernet Franc in the blend and the rest Merlot. With the great aromatic expression of the vintage, the 2005 Le Dôme offers up a smashing fireworks-like display of spring flowers, blueberries, forest floor, raspberries and cherries. Dense purple in color, medium to full-bodied, light on its feet, but super-intense and rich, this wine performed fabulously well, and is one of the superstars and profound efforts of the vintage. It is actually somewhat approachable, which is not always the case with many 2005s. Drink it over the next 20 years. RP Est. 250 - 330  |

It was emotional tasting this wine, thinking of the late Christine Valette, who made this compelling wine while battling with considerable courage against an insidious disease. It is a great effort and a superstar of the vintage. Dense purple, it offers notes of white chocolate, blackberry, cassis and licorice as well as a hint of truffle and some subtle background oak. Full-bodied, multi-layered, and spectacularly pure and rich, it is a tour de force, and a great tribute to an incredible woman. Remarkably youthful, this wine probably needs another 4-8 years of bottle age, and should keep for 20 or more years. Kudos to the late Christine Valette! RP                            |
